What Boutwell Says.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The Washington correspondent of the Evening Post has had an interview with Mr. Boutwell, ex-secretary of the treasury, in relation to the Phelps-Dodge case, re-opened by the Conkling-Bayard correspondence. Mr. Boutwell says: The first intimation I received that Dodge & Co. had been charged with a violation of the revenue law was from William E. Dodge himself, who came to my rooms one day when I was too ill to go to the treasury, and informed me his house had been charged with a violation of these laws. He said if there had been any omission to pay duties, it was due to ignorance and not to any intention to defraud the government. He added that the charge was very unpleasant for the firm and his family, and he wished to make a settlement without publicity. I told him that was impossible, and if possible, it would certainly be very unwise; that any secrets in the treasury were temporary; that the results were matters of record and open to inspection by congress and the officers of the government. Moreover, according to his own story, there were three persons in New York outside of his own firm who had knowledge of the charges, and that secrecy under those circumstances was impossible, and that any attempt at secrecy would only fasten on his firm an irredeemable stain. I then said to him that if a failure to pay legal duties had sprung from ignorance, his true course was to try the case in court, and if the fact was established the judge would certify that, while there had been a technical violation of the laws, no intention of fraud appeared, and that upon such a showing, under a statute provided, the secretary of the treasury had the power, and it was his duty to remit the penalties, that the firm would have to pay the duties and pass through a disagreeable ordeal; but in the end it would be absolved from all just ground of censure. Mr. Dodge left me without saying what he should do, but with the impression on my mind that he would follow the course suggested. I may say that I had no doubt at the time of their innocence. Not many days passed, however, before efforts for a settlement were begun. There was never any check paid to me, and I had nothing whatever to do personally with the collection of the money or its distribution. The firm never signed a paper confessing their guilt, and the only foundation for such a statement was probably in the fact that I refused a receipt to ignored propositions for a settlement on which they asserted their innocence, but agreed to pay the amount claimed to be due by the officers in New York, both as duties and penalties. This proposition was rejected on the grounds that the assertion of innocence was inconsistent with the payment of the money.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 24.—A delegation of twelve Sioux Indian chiefs and head men from the lower Brule agency reached Washington last night in charge of Capt. Daugherty, acting agent of the Crow Creek agency. Their business here is to conduct negotiations with representatives of the several lines of railway relative to granting the right of way in company with Secretary Schurz, they called at the White House and paid a brief visit to President Hayes, who was introduced and shook hands with them all. The names of the chiefs are White Ghost, Iron Native, Dear Hand, Little Phasant, Medicine Bull, Bull Head, Don't-Know-How-Dog-Bark, Bear Bird, Big Mane, Wise and Handsome Elk.

John D. Defrees, the public printer, in his annual report, shows the actual expenditures on account of printing, binding, engraving, lithographing, etc., for the government of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1880, as executed at the government printing office, amounted to $2,084,760; value of stock on hand at the end of the fiscal year, $34,798. As evidence of the increase of work in this office, the number of blanks printed during the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1879, exceeded those printed during the previous year by 30,854, 933, and blank books by 126,511, and the increase of blanks printed during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1880, over those printed during 1879, is 25,464,886, and of blank books, 94,195. The increase of work during the first quarter of the fiscal year, as shown by requisitions of the executive department, exceeds that of the last fiscal year during the same time by 25 per cent.

The president has signed the commission of Judge William B. Woods to be associate justice of the United States supreme court.

The papers in the case of Captain Thomas F. Field, commanding officer of the marine corps at the Brooklyn navy yard, regarding charges of scandalous conduct, etc., have been received at the navy department and are being examined.

Prize Fight—Elevated Railroad—Murder.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 24.—John Sullivan, of Boston, and Prof. John Donaldson, of Cleveland, were matched for a fight to-night with small gloves for one hundred dollars a side before a private audience. The police interfered because there had been much bitterness of feeling between the men and their friends, and a row was expected if the fight was allowed to proceed.

It is understood that articles of incorporation have been filed for a company to construct an elevated railway through the northern part of the city along the Miami canal. Among the incorporators are Theodore Cook, Richard Smith, Wm. R. Thrall, Benjamin Eggleston, Robert Simpson, and John D. Davey.

The Gazette's Newark, O., special says news of a murder reached that city to-night committed late last night eight miles from Newark, near Dugdon's corner, at a ball at the house of Samuel Levison, a farmer. Oscar Loper quarreled with a man named Levison, and a fight followed. Loper finally fled and was pursued by a man named Haniman, who had an old grudge against him. After the two passed out of sight shots were fired, but no attention was paid to them by the party at Levison's. This forenoon Loper was found with his skull broken, and he died soon after being found. A warrant is out for the arrest of Haniman, but he cannot be found.

A Bold Robbery.

DETROIT, Dec. 24.—Rev. Samuel B. Carpenter, an Episcopal clergyman, of Toledo, recently of this city, was the victim of an audacious robbery in a Lake Shore train last night. As the cars were about to stop at Monroe, a gentlemanly appearing man inquired the time. As Mr. Carpenter took out his watch it was grabbed by the thief. At the same time two other confederates seized the clergyman, beat him back over a seat, and hurriedly rifled his pockets, securing $80, and jumped from the cars before the passengers had time to recover from their astonishment over the affair. The watch was worth $250.

Fire at Detroit.

DETROIT, Dec. 24.—About midnight a fire was discovered in the job rooms of the Free Press, but it was quickly under control and extinguished before serious damage was done. Work on the paper will not be interrupted. Almost at the same time a fire broke out in the second story of the Newberry & McMillan block, the finest in the city. The fire was kept under subjection and extinguished before it reached the higher stories. The damage by water and fire will not exceed a few thousand dollars.

BLUFFTON.

Interesting News From that City. Correspondence of the Sentinel.

The holiday season was duly inaugurated at Bluffton by the brilliant wedding of Mr. George T. Silver and Miss Flo Martz, at the residence of the bride's parents at 8 o'clock last evening. Bluffton society people were in attendance in force. We append a partial list of presents: Silver castor, Dr. Silvers, of Sidney, O.; large hanging lamp, Misses Sturgis, Correll, Free, Horton and Myers; silver butter-dish, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hale; large silver castor, Messrs. J. Blackburn, Ridgely and Pontius. Set silver spoons, parents of bride; silver knives and forks, Will and Mrs. Wilson Clark; bread plate, Miss Schump; cake dish, Rosa Myers; silver butter knife, Miss M. Glukill; set silver napkin rings, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Martin; pair vases, Misses Hatfield and Lusk; match safe, Grace Horton; lamp mat, Capitola Gorrell; tidy, Miss Celia Martz; glass tea set, Miss Eva Martz; set silver spoons and holder, S. B. Nelson; bouquet holder and card receiver, Miss Marquis and Miss Ella Wiley. The bride was dressed in navy blue cashmere, and the groom in conventional black. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. G. Dopland in an impressive manner. After congratulatory, the company partook of a bountiful supper.

Among the pleasant events of the evening was a surprise perpetrated by Dr. Silver, a brother of the groom. The brothers had not seen each other for a number of years. The doctor arrived on the evening train unexpectedly, and the groom remained unconscious of the fact of his presence until he stepped forward to tender his congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Silvers will make Wooster, O., their future home.

Grant is at the Catholic fair teaching the young Americans how to smoke. We regret to say that some less distinguished Americans followed his example and flourished their cigars right in the faces of the ladies present.

Mr. J. B. Monning was in attendance at the Catholic fair on Tuesday evening.

Lewis Jocquel, of your city, is in town attending the fair.

The contest for the chair, to be presented to the editor of the most popular paper in Bluffton, resulted in a glorious victory for the Banner. The Banner has always, and will always, take the lead, as the most popular paper in the county.

The contest for the wreath, to be presented to the most popular lady, is exciting. The fair contestants are Miss Maggie Kiehl, of Sheldon, and Miss Allie Kover.

A merry crowd of the elite of Decatur were in attendance at the fair last night. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. T. Hotthouse, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Counter, Jimmy Niblack and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Brimmercamp, Mr. Frank Bussey and sister, the Misses Fitzgerald, and last, but not least, that extremely modest youth, mine host of the Miesse house.

In the flush times immediately following the late war life insurance flourished like a Green Bay treemushroom. Companies started up; promised everything, and did nothing but swindle thousands of victims. It was done under the form of regular life insurance. Without present property has come another mania of the same character, but this time in guise of co-operative insurance. Thousands are receiving and paying assessments on certificates of membership in the Squedunk Protection and its associates that realize that they have been victims of another insurance mania. I have naught to say against legitimate insurance, regular or co-operative, but only object to swindles under guise of either. That the co-operative plan is now furnishing a bountiful crop of the latter there can be no doubt.

I (notice the I) make haste to say that the editor of the Chronicle is not a candidate for office, and ought never to be while civil service reform is practiced, and to admit that the name of (Benedict) Arnold has not been popular since "Chronicle" times.

Dr. John I. Weetia, of Oasian, is in the city to-day.

The Chilians and Peruvians—Their Armies Confront Each Other.

The Inhabitants of Lima Seek Refuge by Flight.

Destructive Fire at Burlington, Iowa.

A Mistake—Latest Markets, Etc., Etc. Etc.

A Great Battle Imminent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The Star and Herald of Panama, just received, has a letter from Lima, of date December 1. The writer says although the Chilians are scarcely 100 miles off, this melancholy fact attracts little attention. There can be no doubt of the result, if the army and reserve fight well. They are well armed and in a general engagement should outnumber the enemy by at least 2,000 men. The first division of Chilean army continues at Phisco, waiting the arrival of the second. These two divisions will consist in all, of 18,000 men. They have occupied Tambo, Demora and Chincha, whilst 3,500 of the army have paid a visit to the town of Sea, where the customary scenes of pillaging occurred. Several sugar cane plantations have been destroyed. The Chilians expect to march from 30,000 to 40,000 against Lima, and with this force hope to capture the city. An unhoped sack is promised the troops in event of victory. The Chilean forces encamped in the vicinity of Tacna had to be marched through it unarmed. They having demanded the privilege of wrecking it entirely before leaving, on the ground that after their departure, the Peruvians might recoupify it. The Peruvian army is increasing daily in numbers. Several battalions have recently arrived from the interior, one having marched 900 miles. The principal families of Lima are leaving precipitately, taking with them whatever they can carry.

Flouring Mill Burned.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 23.—The Pacific flouring mill of Kehos Bros., corner of Third and Cedar streets, was almost completely destroyed by fire between 4 and 5 o'clock this evening. About five hundred barrels of flour, 10,000 bushels of wheat and some $15,000 worth of new machinery waiting to be set up was also in the mill, which was either destroyed or badly damaged. Loss estimated at $100,000, but may fall short of that. Henry Carroll and Pat Larkin, members of fire engine No. 18, were carried down by the falling floor in an elevator on the north side of the mill. Carroll was killed and Larkin injured, but not seriously. An employee of the mill, named Biederman, was badly burned about the face and hands. Insurance, $49,000.

The Carolina Central Wreck.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Dec. 24.—Additional particulars in regard to the railroad disaster on the Carolina Central, yesterday, at Indian creek trestle come in slowly. It is known, however, that the following were killed: J. F. Bloom, of Charlotte, mail agent of the Richmond and Arlington life insurance company, of Richmond, V. A. F. W. Smith, salesman of Benedict & Hall, New York city; Bill McKenzie and James Warlick (colored) brakemen. H. P. Johnson, the conductor, escaped without serious injuries, and Messrs. Richard Linebrick and S. H. Griffin, salesmen of Austin, Nichols & Co., New York city, were taken from the wreck were unrecognizable. Both brakemen are thought to have been killed in the fall. Bill McKenzie was seen in the burning debris transfixed through the chest with a piece of shattered timber.

George Elliot and Westminster Abbey.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—The friends of Mrs. Cross (George Elliot) are considering the suggestion that Dean Stanley be asked to permit the interment of her remains in Westminster Abbey.

The Colonists.

CALDWELL, Kas., Dec. 24.—Harry L. Hill, chief of scouts of the Oklahoma colony, and Colonel Thomas D. Craddock, general manager, who went into the territory on the 8th, having flanked the military at Arkansas City, came into camp to-day. They were gone fourteen days. They say the territory is full of people. They met, at an appointed rendezvous, over fifty scouts concealed from the scouts awaiting Captain Payne, who will join them as soon as he reaches the town site. They report that hundreds of claim have been taken, and the foundation of houses built on them. Payne having failed to get all the parties into the territory, they will return to their homes to await future movements. Most of the colonists have gone to their homes to spend Christmas, only about 100 remaining in camp.

Serious Mistake.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—It seems that the Norwegian ship Jeno, which was seized by Customs authorities at the mouth of the Shannon, Ireland, Wednesday last, had started from Queenstown for New York, but was driven back into the Shannon by stress of weather. Customs authorities took charge of the vessel as a natural result of the character of the cargo.

Fire at Burlington.

CHICAGO, ILL., Dec. 24.—A fire broke out in Wesley Jones' wholesale book and stationary house, at Burlington, Iowa, last evening at 11 o'clock. The inside of the building was burned. It is not known how the fire originated. The loss is estimated at $20,000, and is fully covered by insurance.

Jason Poole, a switchman in the Wabash yard, had his right hand crushed in a frightful manner last night while coupling cars. It is feared that the injury will necessitate amputation of the member.

The young men who compose the Social Four club give their bal masque to-night at Arion hall, and it promises to be one of the finest affairs of the season. All who love good music and a good time should not fail to attend.

So badly did my wife sprain her foot, writes Mr. P. Dinzel, Naples, New York, that it became greatly discolored. The swelling had enlarged to such an extent that she could not move, in which condition she was in bed for three weeks, when we commenced the use of St. Jacobs Oil which relieved her at once and removed the swelling; after using six bottles she was completely cured.

CHRISTMAS.

It Comes but Once a Year And Should Always be Remembered.

A Charitable Act Will Redound to the Credit of the Doer.

To-morrow is the birthday of the babe of Bethlehem, the man of sorrows, and all should remember the day and try to emulate the example of Him, who not only gave all He had, but even laid down His life that those who died might live again in the realms above. Christ was charitable and loved to see all those who surrounded Him happy. If He did not believe in those acts which redounded and brought great praise upon the donor, He at least thought that the left hand should not know what the right hand did, and did not forbid the right hand from doing all it could in the cause of charity. In this connection we would like to call the attention of all our citizens to the fact that in our midst are many who do not know of this babe of Bethlehem, nor do they possess the means to make this a day of rejoicing, being scarcely able to even make it a day of rest, and it would only be an act of charity, a deed which would redound to the credit of the donor, if those who are able to do so would try and make it a pleasant day for the poor. Let all, who can afford it, ere you sit down to your turkey and other fine things to-morrow, think of some poor family who have no wood to keep themselves warm, no food to satisfy the cravings of hunger, no clothes in which to appear to enjoy all that can be enjoyed without money and without price, try and make one home happy, and lay up a treasure above, where neither the moth or rust will ever disturb it. Let every one who can do so endeavor to help some poor family enjoy the day to-morrow, and you will find that your dinner will taste all the sweeter for being seasoned by a little charity. Our city has put on her holiday attire and every store and window is filled with bright and useful things that catch the eye and purse of the shopping folks. The only difficulty that arises is how to select from such a vast display of goods. As you enter a store your eye is caught and your attention attracted by almost the first thing you see, but as you wander through the labyrinth of goods piled up, the mind wanders, then wavers and you can scarcely tell what would please the little ones best. Every merchant in our city states that the trade this year far surpasses the trade of two or three years ago. More goods have been brought on and disposed of at good fair prices than was expected at the opening of the season. One thing is noticeable and that is that patrons are now trying to utilize their means and are buying useful as well as ornamental goods. A great many have purchased toys, but the mass have kept a bright look out, and many a youngster will rejoice to-morrow morning over a new dress, a pair of shoes, a hat or a coat, and will feel just as happy as though they had received some toy, which, in a day or two, would be numbered with the things of the past. THE SENTINEL rejoices in this state of affairs, and congratulates our merchants on their large sales, and wishes each and every one a "Merry Christmas," and a continuation of their friendly relations with the purchasing community of our city.

THE CHURCHES will appropriately celebrate the day by divine services, and many will reverently go and bow the knee to Him who rules the world. Several of the churches present very attractive programmes, and, in this connection we republish the programme of the Trinity Church: Opening piece—"Silent night, holy night. All is calm, all is bright." Venite..... Burnap Gloria..... Haydn Gloria to Exultation..... Wilson Te Deum..... Lloyd Jubilate..... Lambilliotte Hymn—"Star of Bethlehem" Solo, with vocal accompaniment Offertory—"Jesus, Lord of Life" Verdi Trio for soprano, alto and tenor. Hymn—"Adeste Fideles." Doxology—"Old Hundred." In addition to the other decorations the chancel will be illuminated with upwards of 100 burning tapers. Programme for service Christmas day at 10:30 A. M.: Opening piece—"Jesus, Lord of All." Mission and Ten Sermons..... Tucke Offertory—"Christus Natus Hodie" Faure Solos for contralto and tenor. Gloria in Excelsis..... Wilson

CATHEDRAL. Services at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, to-morrow, will be as follows: First mass, at 5 o'clock will be celebrated by Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger, assisted by a number of priests from throughout the diocese. After the conclusion of this service there will be low masses continually until 7:30, at which times the sodalities and other societies will attend communion in full regalia. At 10:30 solemn pontifical high mass will be sung by the venerable Father Benoit, assisted by Fathers Boeckelman and Brammer. A sermon will be preached by Rt. Rev. Bishop Dwenger. The choir will at this latter service sing the magnificent mass from a celebrated German composer which it has been rehearsing for some time past. Vespers will be sung at 8 p. m., which will close the services for the day.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH. A fine programme will be presented at the Baptist church Monday evening, the yearly sabbath school entertainment, which will be opened with prayer by Dr. Stowe; singing by members of the sabbath school; "Gloria in excelsis Deo," by Prof. J. F. Kinsey. Miss Goodwin, Mr. Samuel Taylor, and Miss Princess Clark; dialogue, by Masters George Daker, Ross, Worth, Willie Kerr and Clifton Kerr; exercises by infant class, recitation by Jno. Rupert; solo, "When the Tide Comes In," by Miss Princess Clark; essay on Christmas, by Miss Lida Embury; duet, "On the Blue Wave," by Miss Anna Sibray and Mr. Chas. Wilson; recitation, by Cora Godfrey; singing by members of the sabbath school; recitation by Miss Eva Ross; the entertainment to conclude with a pleasing little sketch, entitled, "St. Nicholas' House," and every child who approaches the house will be served with sweetmeats by a beautiful fairy. The church is beautifully decorated with wreaths of palm, and two immense arches bearing the respective mottoes of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men," and "We Praise Thee, Oh God," span the entire width of the large building at the north.

WAYNE AND BERRY street Methodist church will remember the little ones who attended the Sabbath schools and no doubt appropriate programmes have been arranged for both places and plenty of sweetmeats will be distributed to make them remember the occasion for months to come.

ST. PAUL AND ST. MARY'S Catholic church will carry out their usual programmes and all are invited to attend.

THE ENGLISH LUTHERAN church is handsomely decorated inside and services will be held for the children at 10:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

CONGREGATIONAL. A handsomely decorated and bountifully supplied Christmas tree will make the hearts of the youngsters of this church glad to-morrow evening. Addresses, vocal and instrumental music will relieve the monotony of the occasion and brighten the hours passed here.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH. The Christian church will have a grand time this evening for the scholars of the Sunday school. Two large Christmas trees, filled with good things, will delight the hearts of the youngsters, and the older ones will enjoy the sight of seeing so many happy faces around them. The recollection of these occasions do not pass from the minds of the youngsters, and they will talk the matter over when older folks have forgotten them.

The A. M. E. church will hold a festival this evening at their church. A large Christmas tree will be one of the features of the occasion. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

All the other churches of the city will appropriately celebrate either Christmas eve or Christmas day, and the members of the different denominations are all striving to interest and make happy the young folks of the congregations. To all of these THE SENTINEL extends the wish of "A Merry Christmas."

NOTES. The Social Four give a hop at Arion hall to-night and all lovers of the mazy waltz will be sure to attend.

To-morrow afternoon and evening Mrs. Scott Siddons will delight the hearts of our theatre goers with a matinee and evening performance.

The Bijou will have an afternoon performance to-morrow, and all who desire to witness the performance of a good troupe and see the vast improvements made in the interior of this building, should not fail to attend. No liquors will be sold and all can rely on seeing nothing but a first class performance. It will be open as usual in the evening. Monday this place will be opened with a first class variety troupe, and will undoubtedly draw large houses the entire week.

Private dances and dinners will be the order of things for the next week, and old and young will enjoy themselves as each may deem best. Again THE SENTINEL reiterates its wish "A merry Christmas to all."

Obituary.

Isaiah Hillegass brother of Jeremiah Hillegass and Mrs. S. McManus, died at his home in Hunter-ton this morning at 2 o'clock, of kidney disease. Deceased has been afflicted for the past twelve years with a complication of diseases although he has never been confined to his bed for any length of time. Mr. Hillegass formerly attended the high school in this city, spent two years at the university at Ann Arbor and attended the normal school at Valparaiso a term or two. He was a bright scholar and had been would have made his mark in the literary world. He spent four months at Mt. The funeral will take place on Sunday at 2 o'clock from his late residence in Huntertown, Rev. W. H. McFarland officiating. He will be buried in the cemetery at this place. Mr. Hillegass will be sincerely mourned by all who knew him for he was a faithful friend, a bright scholar and a genial, whole-souled companion.
